McDonald Tours City Ordering Houses Under Mayor's Ban to Close

Given 10 Days In Which to Comply or Face Prosecution.

SPEAKEASIES PROBLEM

Chief Indicates They Will Be Hardest
to Ferret Out; Thinks Conditions
Are Not So Bad as Painted; Will Cooperate With Local Reform Body.

Chief of Police Thomas McDonald intends to do the best he can to comply with the order of Mayor Charles C. Mitchell that the city be cleaned up of disorderly and gambling houses and speakeasies. The chief said this morning he had notified all places he knew of and that 10 days would mark the beginning of an era of attacks if the houses were not vacated.

"I found no women at any of these places," said Chief McDonald, "except two at one house in Water street. They will get out now that they know I may mean a $100 fine and 90 days to jail to remain."

The chief said it would be harder to get a line on the places where there was an illicit traffic in liquor. "We will get the goods on those fellows tomorrow," he declared, and turn them over to the Committee of One Hundred for prosecution.

Speaking of the general condition of the city at this time the chief said it was "not in such bad shape." He admitted, however, that perhaps more raids would have to be made. He attributed the quiet condition of the disreputable section to the fact that their usual "customers" do not have money at this time. "If they had money," McDonald said, "it would be hard to keep these houses from running. We would have to make continuous raids and impose heavy fines. Right now when we pull one place every other one closes up."

The chief said he had given strict orders to Lieutenant W. B. Bowers to check up closely on the night force, and to show some activity in closing disorderly houses.

Mayor Mitchell had instructed Mr. McDonald to serve notices on all places to vacate within 10 days time. At the end of that period arrests will follow if the orders have not been complied with, and the mayor has told the officers not to take forfeits. He intends to make examples out of the first prisoners to face him.

Friends of the chief have pointed out the course he must follow to retain his job. He has been far too lenient with the members of his force, his advisors have pointed out, and it has been recommended to him that he put on a stern front, enforce every regulation, and report all infractions to the mayor. As the greater part of the police work at night, the chief has to depend considerably on his lieutenant. Inability of Lieutenant Bowers to hold the men firmly to lines of duty is a responsibility he will have to bear. Chief McDonald has been told by the mayor, and if his lieutenant is not equal to the task report of it is to be made to the chief executive.

Many of the difficulties now encountered by the system are expected to disappear when it becomes apparent that the new mayor means to enforce all regulations.

Conference of Coal Operators And Union Off

By Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 4.—The meeting of coal operators of the Central Competitive Field with officers of the United Mine Workers of America at Pittsburgh Friday was called off today by John L. Lewis, president of the union. The meeting was for the purpose of fixing a date for negotiations on a wage agreement to become effective next April. Mr. Lewis, in a formal statement, declared the meeting was discarded because operators refused to meet the miners.

"It is essential from a standpoint of public interest," Mr. Lewis said, "that a joint meeting of operators and miners be held. In no other way can problems of the coal industry be solved and in due time circumstances will compel such a meeting."

T. G. KINCAID IMPROVES

Local Man Narrowly Escapes Death In Pittsburgh.

T. G. Kincaid, well known Baltimore & Ohio engineer, who narrowly escaped death in an accident last Thursday, is getting along nicely at his West Cedar avenue home. Mr. Kincaid was called out to take passenger train No. 159, which had a "dead" engine, into Pittsburgh.

He was sitting in the engine at the Pittsburgh station and the crew of the "dead" engine got on Mr. Kincaid's locomotive to get warm. Not seeing him at the engine the fireman pulled the lever and had not reversed it when he did Mr. Kincaid's head would have been severed. Fortunately he escaped with bruises of the right cheek bone, head and face.

NOT AN ARREST SINCE NEW MAYOR ASSUMED OFFICE

Although Charles C. Mitchell has been mayor of Connellsville for three days there have yet been no arrests made by the police and he still has his first police court session to hold. The officers report that the city has been very quiet. The only arrests made this year were two persons picked up on the West Side for fighting. They were taken before R. E. Shaw, acting mayor, just a few hours before he retired.

War Tax Removed From Luxuries and Railroad Tickets

Both public and merchants are delighted with the removal of many of the war or "luxury" taxes which had been imposed on various articles up until January 1. The duty on drinks at soda fountains, on drugs, sporting goods, wearing apparel and transportation has all been lifted. On some of them, including drugs and soft drinks, the tax will be levied on the manufacturer and not collected across the counter.

There will be very little reduction in the prices of soft drinks at fountains, proprietors point out, because the manufacturer will want his price to meet the tax he has to pay. One of them, however, who has been selling a popular drink for five cents and one-cent war tax will now sell for the nickel.

Fares on trains and street cars have dropped somewhat since the eight per cent tax levied on them has been taken off. The removal of the tax also does away with much tedious work connected with the compilation of it.

The tax on sales of jewelry, real or imitation, is five per cent, and is payable by the vendor. The tax on the sale of works of art (paintings, statuary, art porcelain, and bronzes) is reduced from five per cent. This tax, payable by the vendor, applies except in the original sale by the artist, or to an educational institution or public art museum, or a sale by a recognized dealer in such articles to another such dealer for resale.

When payable by the manufacturer or vendor, taxes must be in the hands of the collector of internal revenue on or before the last day of the month following the month in which the sale was made.

DELEGATION WILL GO TO UNIONTOWN TO BOOST BRIDGE

Citizens Will Meet With Road
Supervisors of County
Tomorrow.

ALL WHO CAN GO WANTED

The road supervisors of Fayette county will meet in their ninth annual convention tomorrow afternoon in Uniontown at which time various matters pertaining to the highways of the county will be discussed. Along with other matters that of a proposal for a new bridge over the Youghiogheny river in Connellsville will be considered.

Some time ago the county committee, at the suggestion of citizens of Connellsville and nearby, delayed action on bids for extensive repairs to the bridge, agreeing that it would be left to committees named by the Youghiogheny Automobile Club and Connellsville Council to interview officials of the West Penn Railway Company and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company relative to financial assistance toward a new bridge. These committees have been named and are understood to have held the conferences suggested.

In view of the need of a new bridge here members of the automobile club and the councilman committee composed of Mayor Charles C. Mitchell and Councilmen B. L. Berg and J. A. Cypher are anxious that there be a large representation of citizens, not only of Connellsville but the region affected, at the meeting of the supervisors.

The session at which the bridge is to be discussed will open at 1:30 o'clock at the courthouse. The supervisors will convene at 9:30 in the morning.

Privacy at Penrose Funeral in Accord With Tradition

By Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 4.—Privacy in connection with the funeral of Senator Penrose is in accordance with traditions of the Penrose family. Men who knew the senator well recalled yesterday that his frequently said of his father's death and burial.

The Penrose brothers were called to the bedside of their father. He, a physician of note, told them he was about to die. He instructed them to avoid all pomp and ceremony in his obsequies. So they removed the body, it is said, from the old Penrose home at 1321 Spruce street, where the body of the senator now rests, at midnight and buried it with only the Penrose sons at the graveside.

Such rigorous simplicity may not at all the burial of the senator, but it is not expected that his friends and followers will be invited to view the body. Since it was brought here from Washington the Penrose family has been in seclusion. No one has been admitted to the Spruce street home where the senator was born. His closest associates in political life said they did not expect to be invited to the Penrose home.

It was learned that a number of the Penrose family had communicated to Vice-President Coolidge the president of the Senate, that the funeral would be marked by strict privacy. Consequently, no representative committee has been appointed to attend the funeral.

Family patents today were quoted at $6.75 and $6.80 a barrel when sold in 98 pound cotton sacks in car lots.

Hanged Soldiers Buried With Cap Still Over Head

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Rufus P. Hubbard of New York, employed by the American Graves Registration Service in preparing bodies of soldiers for shipment from France, told a Senate committee today that on three bodies disinterred he found a rope around the neck of each and a black cap over each face.

Called as the first witness at the resumption of hearings of the committee investigating charges by Senator Watson, Democrat of Georgia, that American soldiers were hanged without trial in France, Hubbard said there was nothing in the coffins by which the bodies could be identified.

"The bodies were identified by crosses on the collars, and the black caps were placed on the bodies before they were shipped to the United States for burial," Hubbard testified. Hubbard insisted that the bodies of the three soldiers "hanged" were identified by the cross on each grave, and he presumed they went to the right persons.

"Are you prepared to swear there was no tag on any of the three coffins?" Senator Watson asked.

"I am,"

Hubbard said he protested to Major Gunter against allowing the bodies to be taken to lie on the ground overnight in the rain.

"How did you get the nose off?" Senator Watson went on.

"It slipped off the head,"

"If you took off the nose why did you not remove the black cap?" Senator Brandegee asked.

"I wasn't ordered to take off the cap," I was ordered to remove the nose."

"Why were you not ordered to take off the cap?"

"I don't know."

Don L. Jacobson, formerly of New Haven, Conn., but now of Guthrie, Okla., was called next.

"I saw a soldier hanged without trial," Jacobson testified.

"I did not."

"Do you know anything about illegal hangings at Gisors?"

"No."

Jacobson then told how he had put the nose around the neck of a negro soldier hanged after court-martial conviction. The body was cut down and a sheet, stretch of Yagitef, around the neck, he said.

"It was cut down to bury a man with the rope and black cap in place," he testified.

He said the soldier, who he expected he assisted, was buried at Gisors, where Hubbard produced a photograph of the body. Hubbard produced a photograph of the body. Hubbard produced a photograph of the body.

Major Otto of Stanton, Va., commander of the Third Battalion, 15th Infantry, accused by Henry L. Scott of Ohio of having shot and killed two soldiers in France was present at the counsel in court formal denial. Because some witnesses were anxious to testify and return home there was an early reference of the case.

Congress Certain to Pass Soldier Bonus Bill, Held Over From Last Session

By Mark Sullivan.

National Political Correspondent of The Courier and the New York Post.

PART IV.

There can be little doubt that the Republicans did well when they passed some form of soldiers' bonus bill, and it is certain that no effective bonus means some degree of additional taxation. However, the Republican leaders may feel about the merits of "adjusted compensation," as the soldiers call it, or about the desirability of adopting such a measure now as compared with some future time the factor of political expediency will be likely to lead.

The Republicans to try to satisfy the soldier vote it is true that as late as last July President Harding personally took upon himself the onus of opposing the bonus bill and by that opposition prevented its adoption by the Senate. But the same Republican Senators who persuaded the President to take this burden in order to save themselves from their own embarrassment probably think today in terms of politicians who are six months closer to the shadow of an impending election.

Also it is a fact that in several cases, notably the election in Ohio, there have been local manifestations of a strong public sentiment in favor of adjusted compensation for the soldiers. It is believed that Secretary Mellon still feels, as he felt last summer, that the state of the national treasury is such that it cannot stand the strain of a bonus bill involving to home. If Mr. Mellon could have his way he could be what he would undoubtedly prefer to be, a business man free from the necessity of considering political expediency. He would say that the soldiers' bonus should wait until the interest rates of borrowed money have gone to normal—a time which may come within six months or may not come for a year or more.

THREE ARRESTS IN LUBINSKY MURDER CASE

Swedenborg Man Says He Saw
Acquaintance Shoot Meat
Dealer.

WITNESS ALSO IS HELD

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTSBURGH, Jan. 4.—Three arrests in connection with the murder of Charles Lubinsky, Swedenborg meat dealer, last week were made yesterday by Chief of Police Frank McCadden. The chief started to work at 10 o'clock in the morning and by 9 o'clock in the evening had three members of the trio in the lockup where they were being held for a hearing which will probably be this evening before Justice of the Peace Rutherford.

According to Steve Martynowicz of Swedenborg, one of the persons, who said he was an eye-witness of the killing and at the time was hiding in fear of being held up by the two implicated in the death of Lubinsky, the actual crime was committed by George Chroel, 19 years old, of North Side, who had been on his way to Scott last night and had $10 in his pockets. He said he saw Chroel and Paul Mickey, 18 years old, of North Side, Scott last night both of whom he knew personally, lurking in the window at the corner of the basket plant and suspected they were bent on a hold-up job. He said he hid under a shelf. Soon he told the officer, Lubinsky came along and the two youths stepped out and confronted him. After Chroel fired and a crowd quickly began to gather the two ran, according to Steve's story.

Both Chroel and Mickey stoutly denied that they had been at the scene of the killing, and neither knew the other, they told the chief. McCadden expressed the belief that Steve was a member of the party.

County Detective Paul G. Feighner of Greensburg was notified of the arrests and planned to come to Scottsville this afternoon to investigate.

The conference was a "show" is one thing, but as a mechanism for achieving certain results it is quite another thing. It is the conference as a show that the less thoughtful public now sees and finds it a bit disappointing. If the whole thing had been reversed, if we had had all the disputes and disagreements in the opening weeks, and if one of the losing days, Hughes should have come out with an unexpected announcement, such as that Great Britain, Japan and America had agreed to stop naval competition and take a ten-year naval holiday, then the same persons who now see the conference as a dramatic anticlimax would be seeing it as what it is, a sensational and unprecedented success.

MRS. ANNA E. HUGHES.
Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Anna E. Hughes, 22 West Elm street, Chicago, an artist who enjoys a wide and enviable reputation for skill in china painting, in relating the facts of her remarkable experience with "Tanlac" says:

"I haven't enjoyed such good health or felt so well in every way in years as I do now. Before I took 'Tanlac' I was so run down that half an hour at my work would tire me completely out and I was actually so nervous and weak that at times the brush would fall from my hands and I would have to quit work for the rest of the day. Every night I would lie awake for hours, miserable and nervous."

"My improvement after the first few doses of 'Tanlac' was rapid and constant. I'm happy to say I'm well and strong now and feel better than in 20 years. 'Tanlac' deserves every word of praise I can give it."

'Tanlac' is sold in Connelville by the Connelville Drug Co., and by the leading druggists everywhere. Advertisement.

At the Theatres

THE SOISSON.

"WHAT DO MEN WANT?" Lois Weber's foremost woman director's latest production, is the leading picture today. Miss Weber has never yet made a picture that did not drive home in an interesting and dramatic way some big dominating thought. In all her stories which include that spectacular success "Where Are My Children?" she embodies a deep and unrelenting truth in such a way that audiences leave the theatre with a clearer and broader perspective on life. In her latest picture, "What Do Men Want?" at the Soisson theatre today, Lois Weber so thoroughly arouses interest in the soul-stirring theme that the moral of the picture gets across as a matter of course, and as a result of one's own deduction.

Picture critics on the large metropolitan dailies are enthusiastic in their comment on "What Do Men Want?" which is described by one as the "great American drama of the hunt for happiness."

Tomorrow, Friday and Saturday Priscilla Dean will be featured in "Conflict," one of the most thrilling pictures ever screened.

Sure Relief FOR INDIGESTION

THE PARAMOUNT.

"GOD'S CRUCIBLE" a picture with a remarkable cast including Gaston Glass, who won for himself a very great deal of prestige in the playing in the leading role of "Hamlet," is the feature picture today and tomorrow. In "God's Crucible" he is again called upon to portray the part of a musician and does so with rare charm and skill. Opposite Mr. Glass is Gladys Coburn who as "Marjorie Menzies" will win the heart of every picture fan. Miss Coburn's beauty is of that rare quality which can perhaps best be defined as ethereal.

"God's Crucible" tells the story of a young political refugee who with his sister and a faithful old family servant, comes to Winnipeg to escape the persecutions of his father's oppressors. How he carves out for himself a brilliant name and a very great success and the adventures and misadventures that befall him ere he attains to the goal for which he strives, all contribute to make the picture a most noteworthy one in every respect.

THE ORPHEUM.

"THE AFFAIRS OF ANATOL" Cecil B. DeMille's production, acclaimed as the greatest picture in cast and rich in investment ever made since the photograph began, is the feature picture today. To recapitulate, it is the first time that such a combination of acting talent has been assembled in one production, and in this respect the picture is positively unique. For in the cast are Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson, Elliott Dexter, Bobe Danella, Monte Blue, Wanda Hawley, Theodore Roberts, Agnes Ayres, Theodore Kosloff, Julia Faye, Raymond Hutton and Polly Moran. Every one of these players has a record of achievement. The settings, as stated, are another feature of the production, which are said to be decidedly distinctive. They were designed by Paul Irlbe, a noted Parisian artist. The several gowns worn by each of the feminine participants were designed by Clare West. Some are extreme forms of conventional types; others are entirely new and decidedly striking, and all are pronounced exquisite. Wallace Reid alone wears 16 different suits during the action, all of which were ordered on bloc for this production. Tomorrow Eileen Percy will be seen in "Hicksville to Broadway."

Tarr

TARR, Jan. 4.—Martin Giboney of Mount Pleasant, driver of D. P. Lowe's truck, had a little bad luck while delivering pop in Tarr. The young driver made a sudden stop with his truck, causing the brake hands to burn out.

Miss Josephine Eckenroed of Mount Pleasant was visiting friends here.

Raymond McMahon was a business caller at Scottdale.

Miss Margaret Oreschow was visiting friends at Greensburg.

MANY GIRLS IN ALVERTON HIGH WANT TO TEACH

ALVERTON, Jan. 4.—High school opened on Monday after a two-weeks vacation. Prof. C. B. Murray gave a rousing talk commending the students on the good work they had done during the past four months of school.

D. F. Davis, the supervising principal of the township schools, gave a talk to the senior class on Monday afternoon. The purpose of his speech was to inform the senior who were thinking of teaching school next fall that they must attend a normal school next summer. He also pointed out that if they would spend two years in a normal school they would be greatly benefited in being better prepared and also they would receive much larger salaries than if they attend only one summer session. Out of a class of 18 girls and six boys the supervising principal found that eight girls were planning to teach next term.

Mrs. G. T. Rowder of Ohio spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Sadie Fox. James Kalp of Fairview, who attended the funeral of his brother at Flaglay, O., stopped off to visit friends.
